EXCHANGE OF IDEAS

SPECIAL MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CONSIDERS INDUSTRIAL PROJECT

A special meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce was held in the Chamber of Commerce building, 1011 W. Broadway, Tuesday evening. The main question under consideration was a discussion of ways and means to promote the securing of the Wood Manufacturing company to locate in Glendale. This company is now located in Los Angeles and according to the report of the committee and others who have visited the factory, is established on a good financial basis and would be a valuable asset to the industrial part of Glendale.

The Wood Manufacturing company manufactures files for phonograph records and at present has a contract to furnish the Columbia Phonograph company with quantities in carload lots. The present pay roll amounts to about $1300 per week and upon taking possession of new quarters the management estimates that the pay roll would be greatly increased.

As an inducement to build a factory and operate the same in Glendale Mr. Wood asks that the citizens of Glendale donate to his company three and one-half acres or more of land in a suitable part of the city. On this land he agrees to erect a factory and equip the same at the company's expense. The terms upon which this land may be placed in the possession of the company are so liberal that members of the Chamber of Commerce committee recommend Mr. Wood's proposition as being a just one. In the near future a mass meeting will be called at which all public spirited citizens of Glendale are expected to be present to further consider the advisability of Glendale's citizens promoting this land donation.

In addition to the consideration of the question above mentioned, the twenty-five or thirty members present engaged in a heart to heart talk about how to best work for the city's interests. It seemed to be the opinion of those present that every well-meaning citizen who has the best interests of his community at heart should set apart at least one evening of each month as a time to be spent with fellow citizens in considering questions that are for the city's welfare.

The meeting, which was full of interest from start to finish, was precided over by J. W. Usilton, president, with R. M. Jackson making a record of the proceedings of the meeting. Members present participating in the discussion were S. C. Packer, H. P. Coker, Herman Nelson, A. T. Cowan, George Woodberry, A. M. Brooks, J. W. Usilton, R. M. Jackson, C. L. Chandler, F. L. Muhleman, C. E. Hall, T. W. Preston.

DINED FRIENDS

A happy gathering it was in the Alfred E. Landman home at 1560 West Myrtle street on Tuesday evening, with these charming people presiding at a 7 o'clock dinner.

A cascade arrangement of spicy carnations in the pink shades with ferns formed a pretty table centerpiece. The same sweet blossoms were used in other rooms used by those present.

Covers were placed for twelve and among those seated with Mr. and Mrs. Landman were the Roger Millers and the D. L. Boultons of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Houston and Mrs. Weeks of Glendale. Music and cards were enjoyed later in the evening.

CLUB LUNCHEON

Most pleasing was the affair of Monday when Mrs. O. E. Clemens of No. 134 Eulalia street opened her home to members of the Monday Auction Bridge and Luncheon club.

At high noon those present found their places at the large table in the dining room, which had been attractively done in chrysanthemums of varied hues and fern foliage. Mrs. Clemens received Mrs. C. M. Good, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, Mrs. Willis Kimball, Mrs. D. H. Smith, Mrs. Frank McKenney, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mrs. R. E. Hewes, Mrs. V. Price Brown, Mrs. Roy Hinchcliff, substituting for Mrs. A. W. Beach, Mrs. Chas. A. Barker, substituting for Mrs. Chas. B. Guthrie, and Mrs. Herman Paine, who had highest score and captured a beautiful prize.

Miss Francelia Billington, daughter of Mrs. A. Billington of 1227 Chestnut street, formerly a "Lubin" star playing at San Diego, is now at San Jose and vicinity, being featured by the "Hearst" Feature Film company.

SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE STUDIES LAWS OF STUDENT BODY —WORK ON "STYLUS"

The executive committee met Monday afternoon for the second time this term. The members of the committee have been studying the constitution and laws of the student body in order to become thoroughly familiar with all the student legislation. The faculty have granted many privileges to the executive committee this year, so that they may carry on this work more efficiently. The committee set Monday afternoon at 3 o'c'ock for its regular weekly meeting. We expect to see many things accomplished this year from this group of fine workers. The students have been giving more loyal support to the executive committee this year than they have in any year previous. The faculty have always given their most generous support, but up to this year there have been very few students who have stood strongly in back of the executive committee. The students will notice that the pictures in the assembly hall have been replaced by the school banners. The audience hereafter in idle moments may see what a superior school Glendale is—or has been—in all forms of athletics, in debating and oratory. It will be far more entertaining than gazing at the "Ruins of the Coliseum." The banners are only one of the many things we have to remind us that our executive committee is alive and wide awake.

Soph Class Meeting

The Sophomores had a meeting Monday afternoon at which they decided to give a dance a week from this Friday if a hall can be secured. Another matter attended to at the meeting was the election of a reporter to write up the various sophomore events for the "Stylus." This year the Seniors are planning to give more room for the class writeups. They want to get as clever class reports as possible and so recommended that each class elect their own reporter. Herbert Scheuner was elected by the Sophs.

Cafeteria a Success

The school cafeteria this year has proven even more successful than anyone has dared to expect. It is expected that during the rainy and cooler weather the students will appreciate even more the opportunity of buying hot lunches right at school. The cafeteria is under the supervision of Miss Hanson, the domestic science teacher. Everything is cooked at school and sold almost at cost. A good luncheon may be bought for a very small sum.

Fine Program for Friday

Next Friday during the assembly hour Cecil Crandall, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Lee, will give a violin recital. There are few persons whose name, merely mentioned, brings forth the applause of the student body. It is mild to say that Cecil is admired and appreciated by every student in the high school. It is also mild to say that they are looking forward to his recital Friday. Cecil will give us something worth listening to.

Joke Box

A box has been placed in the hall for jokes to be published in the Stylus. There are many things happening in classes every day that would very likely take prizes in the Stylus contest. The first prize will be one dollar or two copies of the Stylus. The joke box will be a great help in collecting all the jokes that happen at school. If the students wait until the end of the year to hand in their jokes they often forget the jokes of the first of the term.

AN AT HOME

During the hours of 2:30 and 4 o'clock tomorrow, December 2nd, the home of Mrs. E. W. Kinney at No. 1223 West 7th street, will be the scene of one of the season's most brilliant afternoon gatherings, for this delightful hostess will tender a reception to Signor Constantino, who so liberally gave his services at the recent benefit concert to aid little children. Mrs. Kinney will be assisted by members of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club of which she is music curator.

Upon this occasion Constantino will in person present checks to Mrs. Albert Crutcher, president of the Children's Hospital, Mrs. Wm. Baurhyte, in charge of finances of the Maternity Cottage, and Mrs. John Hunchberger, chairman of local charities. Members of all sections of the Tuesday Afternoon club and their friends will be made welcome.

Signed, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, curator
Mrs. F. S. Balthis, Sec.

PLOT TO KILL PRESIDENT WILSON

E. W. RITTER, GERMAN CHEMIST, CONFESSES CONSPIRACY AGAINST CHIEF EXECUTIVE AND SEC. GARRISON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 1.—In the course of an examination of E. W. Ritter, a German chemist, by County Prosecutor Locher, Ritter is reported to have confessed that he was employed by "two men in high official life" to put an end to President Wilson and Secretary of War Garrison by means of liquid fire.

This information is on record in the court stenographer's notes. Ritter is said to have passed by the name of Von Reptaghe or Rettagi. He calls himself the son of an Austrian count. Ritter is held here by the federal officials on a charge of having issued a fraudulent check. His bail has been fixed at $5000. He admits that he was the originator of the "liquid fire story," but denies having made any such admission as is stated to be contained in the court stenographer's notes. The stenographer's record has been sent to Washington.

BULGARIAN FORCES CAPTURE PRIZREND

SERVIAN SOLDIERS PUT UP STRONG FIGHT BEFORE EVACUATING—KING PETER A FUGITIVE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—Prizrénd is now in the hands of the Bulgarians. Throwing strong forces against the Servian rearguard the Bulgar troops managed to prevent King Peter's soldiers from blowing up the bridge which led into the city. For 24 hours the Servians maintained their position there, but were ultimately forced to retire. They tried to blow up the bridge but the Bulgarian advance was too rapid. Two hundred and fifty thousand Servians have crossed into Albania. Of these 80,000 are soldiers. The Servian government has arrived safely at Scutari. King Peter, after having fought along with his troops in the defense of Prizrend, fled on horseback shortly before the Bulgarians captured the town. It is believed that he has gone to Montenegro. He was accompanied by the Russian minister.

PERMITS FOR MONTH

NOVEMBER, THE TAX MONTH, SHOWS ITS USUAL MODEST RECORD OF BUILDING

November is always a small month as far as building goes. Even in the best of seasons it is never a heavy month in this respect. Much of the building that is done is usually finished before the winter season comes on. People are anxious to get into their new residences, or to have them completed for residence before the rains come down.

Besides all this November is the month for the payment of taxes and people are not anxious to undertake new work until they get that item settled and out of the road. This has been the experience this November. The record is small. Seven dwelling houses have been entered for record and permit. The rest of the list consists of either garages, sheds or additions. Here is the list of permits for the month ending Nov. 30:

E. S. McKee, dwelling, Colorado Blvd.	$2000
J. Vangrove, dwelling, 639 Lincoln Ave.	2000
J. F. Stanford, dwelling, 1520 Burchett	2000
Mrs. M. C. Patterson, dwelling, Riverdale drive	2000
W. E. Boyd, dwelling, 224 Orange	1800
Cal. Loan Co., dwelling, 1452 Myrtle	1500
J. H. Flower, dwelling, 401 S. Brand	1000
Fred Spear, garage, 1551 Penn	250
L. A. Woods, garage, 412 Orange	150
Mrs. C. Shenk, addition, 1533 Riverdale drive	150
J. Z. Seng, garage, 916 West Second	100
O. A. Dopp, garage, 18 Piedmont	100
John McIver, garage, 502 E. Colorado	100
Mrs. S. J. Graybill, garage, 129 East Fifth	75
C. G. Faron, garage, 1456 Colorado	75
E. W. Lyon, garage, 232 S. Louise	60
Geo. Lowe, garage, 200 N. Adams	50
C. H. Conrad, addition, 1433 Burchett	50
W. A. Goss, garage, 204 West Fifth	50
C. E. Barnard, garage, 106 W. Fifth	50
Home Tel. Co., shed, 912 W. Broadway	20

This represents a total of $13,480, which is about half the usual amount of building permit value. It may be expected that the coming month will show a small increase and a gradual improvement may be looked for.

DISTURBING THE PEACE

Marteen Flores, a Mexican, on his way home Tuesday night after having partaken freely of "Dago red" and other stimulants of a similar fiery nature, began to feel the fighting qualities of the stuff he had imbibed. When in this mood, about the corner of Second and Glendale, he entered into a controversy with Joe Nunez, who was also on his way home to the Mexican quarter. Flores' method of argument was of a physical nature and the police were compelled to interfere with his campaign. He was arrested and brought before Judge Whomes this morning when he was promptly fined $10.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB

It is probable that Occidental College Glee club will be heard in Glendale this season. The club is making a name for itself by its excellent choral singing. The first concert of the season was given Monday evening at the Hollenbeck home, Los Angeles. Its unusual interest and variety elicited predictions that this would be one of the most successful seasons the club has had.

OF INTEREST TO FATHERS

The Parent-Teacher Federation of Glendale has arranged an unusually interesting program for Thursday evening, December 2, at which time the boys of the Intermediate and High Schools will entertain the fathers at the Intermediate school.

Mr. Harold Vann, chief probation officer of Los Angeles County, will address those present, using as his topic, "Slaying Lions in Snow Time." The Boys' Glee club and Boys' Orchestra will furnish musical numbers.

A social hour will follow the address and light refreshments served. Special attention is called to fathers having boys in school and interested in their welfare.

VICTORY FOR AMERICAN MANUFACTURERS

In all probability a great deal of money will be saved to American manufacturers if American bankers succeed in making the American dollar, and not the English pound sterling the financial standard for world trade. The pound sterling has been the world's financial standard time out of mind. Great Britain has always been considered the financial Gibraltar of the world. Rich and influential as the United States has grown, it has never held the premier position in the world's finances.

Now, however, Britain's varying war fortunes have unsettled the pound sterling and it has been falling in value every day. Today a pound's worth of American goods may not be worth a pound's worth of American goods tomorrow. If the exchange market were stable American exporters would be able to protect themselves by knowing what prices to quote on their products. When a cotton man in the South sells a million dollars' worth of his product to an English firm, on 90 days' credit he quotes a price based on the prevailing exchange rate. If the exchange rate has slumped by the time he ships his goods the cotton man loses money. The seller takes a big gambling chance. The buyer does not. If payment were based on the American dollar that would not be the case. This country is trying to get foreign buyers to make their payments in terms of American dollars.

Plans now being formulated by American bankers to stabilize foreign exchange may accomplish this result. The huge volume of exports is working toward that end also. The scheme under consideration should make it a fact. Naturally foreign buyers are not anxious to do this. The pound sterling has been the financial criterion in the trade of the world for so many years that it is next to an impossibility to get them to consider it.

Payment in dollars for exported goods from this country would stabilize the exchange market and that is the most important question in international banking affairs today. During the past few months the pound sterling has fluctuated to an alarming extent. Of course, there are many financiers and other powers who are anxious to see it fluctuate and work toward that end. The ordinary business man, doing an international business, would prefer to see it steady. He would be more likely to make money and to run no risk. As long as the pound sterling remained at $4.85, which was its nominal exchange value, it was easy to do foreign business; but when it ran down to $4.50 and up to $4.65 and down to $4.61 it was impossible from day to day to keep track of it and ship goods with a reasonable knowledge that they would bring in a profit.

Fluctuating money is like debased coinage; it ruins business. It unsettles credit and makes things bad all around. The present conditions cannot be allowed to last too long. Meanwhile, there is every possibility that by the time the war is over the financial center of the world may have shifted from London to New York. American exporters want the foreign buyers to assume the risk they now assume and that can only be done by making the American dollar the standard of the world.

WASTE IN OVER-IRRIGATION

In California, where water is so scarce in the season when it is most needed, and where irrigation has to take the place of the natural rainfall to a great extent, it is well to know how to make the best use of the water provided for irrigating purposes. Such water is precious. It has to be paid for and if properly used is worth the price paid for it. The Agricultural staff of the University of California has recently conducted a series of experiments on the University farm for the purpose of discovering just how much water can be wasted by careless or ignorant methods of irrigation.

The lesson that has come out of those experiments is, "Don't waste water by over-irrigating." The experiments conducted at the university were undertaken in conjunction by the Irrigation Investigations of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of California along with the State Engineering department.

It was shown that loam soils are wetted to great depths by very small quantities of water and that larger quantities are to a very great degree nothing but waste. This was the conclusion of experiments conducted in 1913, 1914 and 1915, when some 2300 samples of soil were taken immediately before and about three days after irrigation. By carefully drying those samples the amounts of water held by each foot of soil to a depth of six feet were determined.

It was thus possible to determine how much water each foot of ground retained from a given irrigation. Each plat reported received four irrigations a season. Quantities of water varying from six to twelve inches in depth were applied at one time. It was found that the plats which received 6-inch irrigations retained in the upper six feet of soil 4.43 inches or 74 per cent of the amount applied. With 7.5 applications, 5.10 inches or 68 per cent was retained; while of the 9-inch applications 5.46 inches or only 61 per cent was retained by the upper six feet of soil. When twelve inches was applied at one time only 6.68 inches or 56 per cent was retained.

These are remarkable results. It is well known that many irrigators have hitherto held that it was necessary to apply from 15 to 20 inches of irrigation. One can see how much water has been wasted in the past and how much can be saved in the future. In all probability much of the water used in the twelve-inch irrigation passed far beyond the reach of the alfalfa roots, which it was supposed to benefit.

Results such as these cannot fail to interest a city like Glendale, where so much water is used throughout the summer that at times the pressure is dangerously weak in case of fire. Much of the water hitherto wasted can be saved if only those who are irrigating use a soil auger. A few borings shortly after irrigation will often reveal startling conditions.

The clouds consign their treasures to the fields,
And, softly shaking on the dimpled pool
Prelusive drops, let all their moisture flow,
In large effusion o'er the freshen'd worldd.

TROPICO

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church entertained in the social hall of the church with a Harvest Home social Monday afternoon. The decorations in this large and inviting social hall were most unique and very suggestive of a Harvest Home, for they consisted of corn and corn stalks arranged most artistically, while pumpkins, large and small, with their golden hue gleamed from among the corn stalks. One could scarcely refrain from reciting James Whitcomb Riley's poem, "When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock," upon entering the room and beholding the artistic decorations which with quantities of autumn leaves presented a truly "back east" farm scene. Canned fruits there were in abundance, donated by the benevolent ladies of the society which will be used in the Spanish work of the society. Quantities of good clothing were contributed which will be utilized in the frontier work.

A splendid program under the supervision of Miss Elsie Anderson was presented which consisted of a reading by Mrs. T. J. Meagher, who most cleverly impersonated a Spanish girl Mrs. Frank Morgan appeared in negro dialect readings. Clever readings by Miss Ethel Baker also added to the success of the program. Mrs M. M. Cole president o fthe society as hostess was most ably assisted by Miss Elsie Anderson.

Miss Nell Ford, sister of Rev. Don Ford, and Miss Ethel Baker presided at the prettily arranged tea tables.

Miss M. L. Hughes of Los Angeles is the house guest of Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock of West Park avenue.

Look Over Your Christmas Shopping List

Are You Going to Make Anyone a Present of a Year's Subscription to a Magazine?

—Nothing gives greater pleasure. Every week or every month, as the case may be, the magazine will arrive and bring thoughts of you who gave. Each issue will be read, much pleasure given and many dull hours made pleasant by it. If you do make presents of magazines, do not buy them of traveling people. Many are defrauders, the magazines never received, and all disappointed by so doing. We will take your subscriptions for you and there will be no error or loss. We are in business in Glendale and can make you as good or better prices on magazine clubs than anyone elsewhere. Bring us your lists. Let us figure with you. We will save you money and we are reliable. Do not delay. If Christmas magazines are to be received, they should be ordered early.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan of 1550 Myrtle street is reported greatly improved in health, but far from well.

The Christmas Charity ball is tomorrow evening, December 2, at Masonic hall. Purchase your ticket today at Crofton's shoe store.

Mrs. A. M. Beamon, who has been quite ill at her home, 245 Maryland, is improving slowly and will receive her friends during the afternoon hours.

Mrs. Irene McReynolds is ill at her home, 529 S. Central. It is feared she is going to have an attack of pneumonia. It is possible, however, that the attack may be averted.

Mrs. Arthur D. Cross at 1429 Pioneer drive entertained the P. E. O. chapter A. T. of Los Angeles at luncheon today. Potted cyclamen and smilax made up all decorations used.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hudson of Clairmont spent Sunday in the Earl Naudain home, 903 Lomita avenue. The entire party motored to Griffith park where a picnic meal was enjoyed.

The Young People's branch of the W. C. T. U. held a most interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo. G. Lemon, 119 East Broadway, on Tuesday evening. Next meeting to be held with Mr. Mark Francy, in his parents' home at 308 Kenwood St.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Meyer and family returned from New York this morning to their Glendale home at No. 217 N. Kenwood street after an absence of two weeks. Mrs. Meyer went east to attend the funeral of her mother.

Attractive are the booths at the St. Mark's Episcopal Church bazaar, being held downstairs in the church building this afternoon and evening. If you have not attended be sure and go for it is well worth anybody's time. The "parcel post" proves a great attraction and is new.

Dr. Jessie Russell will speak this afternoon in South Pasadena before the Woman's Improvement association. Dr. Russell's subject will be on "Constructive Philanthropy" and on Thursday afternoon she will address the Southside Ebell club of Los Angeles on "Legislation of Interest to Women."

In the Congregational church notes in Tuesday's issue of The Glendale Evenings News mention was not made of the fact that Mrs. John R. Barrows contributed largely to the pleasure of the evening by her skilled accompanying of Mrs. Kolts and Mrs. Cowan. Mrs. Barrows is a pianist of unusual ability.

A painful accident befell the 15-months-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Joy at 1501 Ivy street on Sunday evening when the child pul'ed a pot of boiling hot tea from the table, badly scalding her little arms and hands, head and chest. The attending physician reports the wee patient doing nicely and does not fear any ill results from the burn.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Youngerman and Miss Rose Youngerman of Des Moines, Iowa, wintering in Southern California, with headquarters at their daughter's home, Mrs. Horace G. Hosford, at 219 South Central avenue, left yesterday for San Diego, motoring down with Mr. Dan Boone of that city. The Youngermans will visit with relatives and view the exposition.

Among those attending the Lyric club concert in Los Angeles on Friday evening are Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Ringquest, president of the Glendale Choral club; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cunningham, Mrs. Helen I. Campbell, Miss Gertrude Champlain and her mother, Mrs. S. V. Champlain; Mrs. Greely Koltz, Miss Annie L. McIntyre, Mrs. Wm. Herman West, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Roach, Miss Lorraine Mitchel and others.

Among many other Glendale people the members of the Municipal band have felt the Christmas spirit and have volunteered their services for the Charity ball tomorrow night. The band will play in front of Masonic temple before the opening of the ball and will furnish the entire program of music for the dancing during the evening. Such generosity on the part of the band calls for equal open heartedness on the part of others. Many who could and should assist the Knights Templar in their noble endeavor to make Chistmas happy for the less fortunate children of Glendale have not yet done so. It is not too late to purchase one or more tickets. They are on sale at Crofton's shoe store.

ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS

At the First Congregational church this evening at 7:45 o'clock will be held the annual election of officers. The pastor will give one of the concluding studies on the Book of Revelation.

CHURCH AND SCHOOL

Mr. Cross, principal of Pasadena High School, gave a very able and suggestive address on the relation of the church to the public school at the meeting of the Congregational Brotherhood Monday night. He stated that he believed that the people of the church should sympathetically co-operate with school boards and teachers. The church should see that good people are elected to the school boards; that moral and efficient teachers are chosen and that the schools are conducted in an orderly and capab'e manner. Parents should visit the schools and see what is being done.

Church people, he continued, shou'd assist in securing suitable and adequate grounds and buildings. Vocational and night schools should be established and maintained. The schools should be kept open twelve months in the year. Several musical numbers were rendered by the male quartet and Dr. H. V. Everly contributed some pleasing violin solos.

WANDERINGS OF LUMBER

One thousand feet of lumber, consisting chiefly of curb boards for cementing purposes and other lumber of a similar kind, betook itself to travel Nov. 23. Disappearing from Seventh and Glendale and playing a regular game of hide-and-seek with its owner, Mr. C. F. Parker, 227 S. Central avenue. Residents in the neighborhood whence the lumber disappeared stated that they saw a wagon being loaded with the lumber; while others also stated that they saw the same wagon being emptied of its load in the vicinity of the circus grounds at Everett and Colorado, where the lumber was hired out to the circus for the purpose of protecting the sidewalk.

In connection with these wanderings of the lumber pile Jack Stockdale, of Kenwood and Broadway, was brought before Judge Whomes Tuesday. He pleaded not guilty, and was admitted to bail in $50, to appear Monday, Dec. 6, at 9 a. m.

The Christmas Charity ball is tomorrow evening, December 2, at Masonic hall. Purchase your ticket today at Crofton's shoe store.

Mrs. H. G. McDougall of 1305 Burchett street entertained in honor of the birthday of Mr. McDougall's mother, Mrs. Robert McDougall, of Los Angeles at a prettily appointed luncheon on Tuesday of this week. Pink carnations effectively arranged with ferns were used to decorate the various rooms of the attractive home while the luncheon table where covers were placed for eight was beautiful in its dainty appointments, the center attraction being the birthday cake, also pink in color, around which were showered the carnation blossoms and ferns, and a twelve o'clock luncheon was served to the following guests: Mrs. John Powell, Mrs. James Miller and Mrs. L. Miller of Los Angeles and Mrs. Agnes Powell, Mrs. K. E. Nash Mrs. W. Z. Williams of Glendale and the gracious hostess and charming honoree.

BAPTIST GOSPEL MEETING

Tuesday evening at the Baptist church an unusual manifestation of spiritual fervor warmed many hearts. Mrs. Fitzsimmons showed how definite has been the work of grace in her recent conversion. Mrs. Hodge, who had much to do with leading the wife of the famous pugilist to Christ, gave her experience. She told how Mrs. Bob Fitzsimmons, when she found salvation in the hospital, though an invalid, pushed her chair along the smooth hospital floor from cot to cot telling each patient with tears of joy how she had found her Saviour. It was a touching story.

Spontaneous testimonies and sweet gospel songs by Messrs. Wolfe and Ross greatly added to the service. Mr. Ross formerly acted as Mrs. Fitzsimmons' manager when she was on the stage. In these days he is finding his way back to a higher mission. Earnest pravers were offered at the suggestion of Mr. Wildman for the conversion of Mr. Bob Fitzsimmons.

This evening will continue the meeting of last night. The White Cross nurses, accompanied by Mrs. Fitz, will assist Pastor Troy. Service commences at 7:30. Rev. A. B. DeRoos will deliver his next afternoon address Sunday afternoon.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS SELF

Dr. A. L. Bryant had a hurried call to Montrose on Sunday, to attend Curtis Hargett, a member of the Glendale High School Freshman class. Young Hargett and boy companions had planned a day's hunt and when about ready to depart, Hargett's "22" rifle was accidentally discharged, the bullet passing through his right wrist. Yes, the hunt was postponed, but Hargett's friends will be glad to learn that the injured member is mending as rapidly as can be expected.

MOTHERS COME

EAGLE ROCK

The excitement is over and Eagle Rock will remain Eagle Rock instead of being a part of Los Angeles. All day Saturday autos were kept running to all parts of the city conveying voters to and from the polls. The vote was large, yet it is said at least one hundred more persons registered than the number of votes cast showed. As we predicted last week the annexation proposition was defeated by a large vote as follows: About 700 votes were cast, 299 for annexation and 393 against it. A number of votes were thrown out as they were not properly filled out or were badly mixed up. Some of our citizens are expecting the annexationists to call another election in the near future.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jessie Wight was held Monday morning at the Congregational church.

Mrs. Spencer and son, J. A. Spencer, of College View avenue entertained with a family dinner on Thanksgiving day. The guests were all from Los Angeles.

Rev. Connaway and wife of East Sycamore avenue had Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Pasadena Sunday as their dinner guests.

Remember this Saturday, December 4th, is the big football game on Baer field between the Occidental Tigers and the Syracuse, New York, team. Everybody is going as an exciting time is expected.

The afternoons and evenings of Dec. 2 and 3 are the dates for the Christmas bazaar at the clubhouse given by the Twentieth Century club. This will be one of the biggest affairs of the whole year and a good time is looked for. Besides the numerous things to be on sale a supper will be served in the evenings and each will close with dancing.

A. A. House and family of Palm street were guests of the Wm. Willis family of Glendale on Thanksgiving day.

Sunday afternoon the M. E. church was filled with boys and girls eager to learn about the organization of a Junior Epworth league. All were so enthused about the idea of having a league all their own and with the assistance of Miss Peters, the organist, a large number of names were added to the charter member list. Next Sunday afternoon they will meet again and decide on more definite plans.

The Thanksgiving concert given last Sunday evening by the choir of the Congregational church was one of the best musical affairs held this year. A most splendid program was rendered by the local musicians with the assistance of Mrs. Mack Kinstrey of Los Angeles.

The special election on the proposion of issuing school bonds to the amount of $65,000 occurred this past Monday. The resu't was 226 votes for and 286 against the bonds. This was the third attempt this year to get the approval of the people of Eagle Rock for issuing the bonds for school improvement work and although the effort put forth this time was much more determined than ever before it met with defeat. If those in favor of the bonds believe in saying "three times and out" they very likely will not try again.

Next week Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, is the date of the "Olde Tyme Concert." Costumes in vogue a century ago will be worn then and songs of bygone days will be sung. A right good time is promised to all.
